

Sandwich revamps classic covers

Written by Richard Amery

Wednesday, 27 August 2014 10:41 -

Local experimental jazz rock group Sandwich didn't have a lot of people at their Saturday, Aug. 16 show at the Slice.

Their second set was mostly rejigged covers of popular songs like the Police's "Roxanne" and Michael Jackson's "Billie Jean."

Though they showed their diversity on a beautifully soulful version of "Mercy, Mercy Me, What's Going On" and transitioned immediately into something a little more funky.

— By Richard Amery, L.A. Beat Editor